

Norsk Grotteblad nr 72, Juli 2019

Helgetur til Pikhaugan

Weekendtour to Pikhaugan

Two cavers describe their visit to this special mountain area about 600 m above sea level. The area, with a lot of stripe karst, is located in Glomdalen in the Rana district.

They went on a hot weekend, starting late in the evening, to use the bright and cooler night getting up to Pikhaughytta. The account of the following days describes this fascinating area as well as visits to many large and small caves in the marble. Pikhauggrotta No. 2, which has an entrance like a keyhole with a perched erratic boulder above, was a favourite.